FUNERAL OF MISS M'GOWAN
HELD AT THE FAMILY HOME

Services by the Rt. Rev. Joseph Chartrand and Burial in Holy Cross Cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Marjorie McGowan was held at the McGowan home, 1300 North Delaware street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The services were short, simple and private. Miss McGowan was killed in an automobile accident near Milford, Conn., Saturday, while riding with Gordon and James Murdoch and Miss Katherine Meyer, all of Indianapolis, and all of whom were injured.

The services at the McGowan home were conducted by the Rt. Rev. Joseph Chartrand, coadjutor bishop of the Indianapolis diocese. The burial, also private, was in Holy Cross cemetery.

The pallbearers included A. Gerald Gates, Thomas Ziegler, William Sullivan, Edward L. Mayer, Richard M. Fairbanks, Richard S. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Shaw, of Detroit, Mich.

It was said today that Miss Meyer and Found Dead in Her Bath.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., November 14.—Mrs. Emma Abbott, forty-eight years old, was found dead in the bathtub at her home, 611 South Third street, today. The tub was filled with water, and when discovered after her long stay in the room had been noticed, she was lying face down. She is supposed to have been attacked by heart trouble when preparing for a bath.

Asks for Hoynes' Arrest.

CHICAGO, November 14.—Warrants for the arrest of State's Attorney Macley Hoynes and the city editors of five Chicago newspapers were asked today by Chief Justice Olson, of the municipal court, who charged criminal libel. The petition for the removal of Mr. Hoynes as state's attorney.

GERMAN EMBASSY WITHDRAWN IS CHARGES

DESIRES THE LETTERS WHICH GRAVES STILL HOLDS.

U. S. ALSO WISHES HIS AID

CONFERENCE IS ADJOURNED

WASHINGTON, November 14.—Should the German embassy be willing to withdraw from the case in which Karl Armgaard Graves is charged with endeavoring to extort $5,000 from Countess von Bernstorff, there is strong belief that the department of justice will drop the charge under which Graves is held.

It is understood that Graves is in possession of many facts which would be of valuable aid in some investigations which the department of justice has underway. It is said that Graves is willing to agree to turn all the information in his possession over to the department officials. In return, he will receive immunity on the blackmail charge.

Might Prefer to Compromise.

Before doing this, however, the German embassy may be in a position where it will be willing to compromise in the Graves case. The embassy has reason to believe that a number of highly important confidential messages were contained in the packet from which Graves obtained the letters the government now has. If the German embassy does not believe that Graves obtained the letters from the packet, it is not certain that Graves will be willing to withdraw the charge, provided Graves turns these letters over to them.

Looking Up Messenger.

The Oscar II arrived at New York November 11, having left Copenhagen October 22. According to the German embassy, the latest date on the documents of the messenger Oscar II is December 1, 1915. The documents of the messenger Oscar II are being kept in the German embassy, and a half before being dispatched.

Extraordinary efforts are being made to determine the identity of the messenger who brought the packet to the United States and the ship he traveled on. The embassy is feeling that the messenger, having lost the packet through accident or theft, might have feared to report the information on results of his investigation being made in Berlin is expected soon.

Denies Blackmail Attempt.

Graves Says Letters Were Important Diplomatic Documents.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Dr. Karl Armgaard Graves, the "international spy," who was arrested in Washington November 11 on a charge of having attempted to blackmail Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador, by demanding $5,000 for three letters addressed to her and smuggled here from Germany, returned here and made several startling declarations.

First, he said, he does not expect ever to have to answer the blackmail charge, for he does not think the German embassy officials will dare have him give his translation of the three code letters on the witness stand.

Graves insisted that there is not a word reflecting on the Countess von Bernstorff in the letters.

The letters contain information about certain stocks, he asserted, which could be played on the New York stock market. Also he declared they contained diplomatic secrets of high importance to the countess.

Says Bernstorff "Cleaned Up."

"Bernstorff knew twenty-four hours before the U-S appeared at Newport that it was in American waters," Graves said, "and he cleaned up in the market on it."

Graves said that early yesterday (and in this he was upheld by the woman from whom he rents his room), two men persisted in trying to force their way into the place, declaring themselves detectives. They were not admitted. Later, he added, some one broke in by jimmying open a rear window and stole some papers.

"I do not believe any change of blackmail can properly be held against me," he began, "and I do not expect to have to go to court."

He did not attempt to blackmail Countess von Bernstorff, nor did I ever pretend that the letters reflected upon her character. If I methodically blackmailed, certainly would have dealt with her, not with Prince von Hatzfeldt.

"This is what came about. A short time ago three letters came into my possession. They were smuggled here to avoid interference by the British consular or any one else. On their face, these letters were simply affectionate letters written by a woman in Germany to Countess von Bernstorff—sort of a diary, it would appear. I never told me there was something more to them."

Studied Out Code.

I know many codes, and I decoded these. It took me forty-eight hours, but I finally read them all. The first letter contained only code enough to say that two more important documents are to be examined only. The other two proved to be these 'important documents.'

Last Tuesday I telephoned to Prince von Hatzfeldt at the German embassy in Washington that I had important news for him. I told him I was and he said, 'You'd better not say that.' Graves, who Graham instead.

I told him that I and the agents who carried the letters were the postmaster in this instance, and that the postage on the letters was $3,000. I fixed this sum because the agents and had spent $2,500 and a lot of time on the job and $3,000 seemed a reasonable figure.

It showed Prince Hatzfeldt the first letter. I do not think he was able to decode it. He thought it was only a ordinary letter, and believed, apparently, that I was bluffing about the other two. He declined to give me the price, and I told him he could have until Saturday to think it over. I saw him again and was arrested.

Disputed by Von Bernstorff.

WASHINGTON, November 14.—"If I were afraid of anything I would not have had Graves arrested."

This was the reply of Count von Bernstorff when informed that Graves had been arrested in New York that the count had made millions of dollars in stock speculation through friends on finance information Count von Bernstorff declared the charge was without merit.

The ambassador reiterated emphatically that he knew nothing whatever about the coming of the naval submarine U-53 to American waters until told of its arrival in Newport harbor.

REGRET AND JOY MINGLED.

Irish-American Democratic Club Holds a "Jollification."

A note of regret as well as joy was present at the "jollification" meeting of the Irish-American Democratic Club last night. There was joy on account of the election of the national Democratic ticket, but regret on account of the coming of the naval submarine U-53 to American waters until told of its arrival in Newport harbor.

Kelleher made a rousing speech in which he criticized President Wilson's method in dealing with the hyphenated vote. Philip Zoerner, clerk of the supreme court, deplored the loss of the state ticket by the Democrats, saying the Democrats did not have a strong state organization. He compared the Democratic organization unfavorably with the Republican organization, which he said was more efficient. Short Eika were made by James L. Sullivan, Albert Sahm, Peter J. Krueger, James Moran, John Shea and E. J. Sexton. The election officers will take place December 8.

The club sent messages of congratulation to President Wilson and Thomas H. Marshall, Vice-President.

APPLICATION OF ADAMSON LAW CAUSES DISAGREEMENT.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Representatives of the railroads and the four brotherhoods, comprising 400,000 employees, failed to reach an agreement as to the proper application of the Adamson wage law, and a conference held yesterday, and danger of a nation-wide railroad strike has not disappeared, according to a statement of the railroads.

The stumbling block, both sides admitted, was the existing mileage system of compensation.

The announcement of the latest deadlock found that the railroads and the employees came at the conclusion of an all-day conference between the national conference committee, hostile railroads and the brotherhood chiefs, which had been arranged in September.

William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, spokesman for the employees in the absence of A. B.
